U.S., Canada Plan Arctic Radar Net

Would Warn Of Approach Of Enemy

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States and Canada Monday announced plans to build a fence of radar stations across the top of the continent as far north as practicable in the Arctic.

This new, northernmost network will be designed to give as early warning as possible of the approach of any enemy planes across the polar icecap and thus help intercept a possible hydrogen or atomic attack on America's big cities.

It will be the third radar chain stretched across Canada. The "Pinetree" chain, started four years ago, extends across the populated southern part of the Dominion, generally along the 54th parallel. This was a joint Canadian-U.S. project. Last spring, Canada undertook to finance, construct and operate the "Mid-Canada line" of radar stations across the broad center of the country.

Secretary of Defense Wilson, discussing the radar defenses at a news conference, declined to pinpoint the location of the new chain except to say it is "well within the Arctic Circle."

Monday's announcement said Canada and the United States had agreed in principle that "there is a need for the establishment of a distant early warning line across the far northern part of North America."

Detailed planning has been ordered started at once, the announcement said, and what part each country will have in constructing and manning the new radar stations will be worked out afterward.

The United States has issued no recent overall estimate of the cost of the radar warning system.

Monday's announcement said construction of the main control and warning radar installations in the United States and the populated part of Canada is now nearly complete and the Mid-Canada line is being built.

The announcement said the complete warning system in Canada will be extended seaward on both flanks of the continent by the United States. This referred to the radar warning system in Alaska, the airborne and ground detection systems in northern Greenland and Iceland and in the ship and air search at sea.

Name Lindquist Chief Drivers' License Inspector

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Hewey E. Tweedy of Murphysboro resigned Monday as chief state drivers' license inspector, and Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter named Mora A. Lindquist of Orion as his acting replacement.

In a letter of resignation released by Carpenter, Tweedy said he quit to seek greater opportunities in his chosen field of highway safety work.

A former football coach at Matteson High School, Tweedy was chief examiner for the Public Safety Department when driver license examination was handled by that agency.

He transferred to the secretary of state's office last year after the 1953 legislature consolidated the license examining function under Carpenter.

Lindquist has been serving as Tweedy's assistant.

Illinois Man Lost In Jap Typhoon, Methodist Minister

NEW YORK (AP)—Harry Dean Leeper, 34, one of the Americans believed drowned when a ferryboat capsized in a Japanese typhoon, was an ordained Methodist minister and a YMCA official.

The YMCA's National Council said Leeper, a native of Farmington, Ill., had just started his second tour of duty as national secretary of the YMCA in Japan.

His wife and three children were not aboard the ferry and are reported safe in Japan, the YMCA said.

Leeper and his family had arrived in Japan Sept. 5 after a furlough in the United States.

17 Americans Die In Jap Typhoon

HAKODATE, Japan (Tuesday) (AP)—Bodies and debris strewn the beaches here Tuesday after a savage typhoon sank a huge ferry and killed possibly 1,600 persons, most of them in northern Japan.

Seventeen Americans—soldiers, their dependents and civilians—were among the dead. Nearly 50 other Americans were listed as missing by the U. S. Army and Japan National Railway.

The Americans died in Japan's worst maritime disaster Sunday when the typhoon, which had been heading out across the Sea of Japan, turned and struck northern Japan with winds of 100 m.p.h.

The Toya Maru with an estimated 1,200 persons aboard had anchored off Hakodate harbor when the rush of wind and water hit. It capsized. Only 163 persons were known to have survived.

Four other ferries from Hakodate were also caught and sank. The tides still were washing in bodies. Rescue workers searched the beaches and debris in the hope of finding more alive.

The typhoon first struck southern Japan.

Two U. S. Navy ships and planes from four U. S. bases in Japan launched a survivor search but stiff winds and high waves kept rescue work at a minimum.

Nationalist China Raps U.N. Powers For Peiping Deals

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Nationalist China's foreign minister Monday struck at what he called the growing tendency of some U. N. members to negotiate outside the U. N. with Red China.

In strong words, the minister, George K. C. Yeh, denounced the Geneva Conference and repeated his long-standing contention that the Soviet Union has qualified for expulsion from the U. N.

In other speeches, the Philippines, Australia and the Netherlands lined up in support of President Eisenhower's "atoms-for-peace" proposals. Carlos P. Romulo, former president of the U. N. Assembly and now delegate from Manila, said the time has come for the United States to state how much nuclear material it will contribute and what funds it will allow for the proposed international pool.

Yeh told the delegates that the Soviet Union talks of peaceful coexistence but Moscow actually wants to incapacitate the United Nations for major political decisions. He did not make a formal expulsion move, however.

As to the Geneva Conference where Red China gained its first international platform, Yeh said the parley legalized the fruits of aggression and brought about the dismemberment of Indochina against the wishes of the people. J. M. A. H. Lums, foreign minister of the Netherlands, called for a solution at this assembly of the problem of financing the economic development of the underdeveloped countries.

The delegates are waiting for Soviet delegate Andrei Y. Vishinsky to make his speech. Vishinsky, working on it, passed out word this weekend that he must not be disturbed. He has kept closely guarded any proposals he will make.

Russia Strives For Top Place As Sea Power; U.S. Naval Chief

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Adm. Robert B. Carney said Monday night that if Soviet Russia continues to increase its naval strength at the present rate the United States must either accelerate its own program or risk falling behind.

The chief of naval operations added that the bulk of the swiftly expanding Red Fleet is of ultra-modern design while the majority of American warships are of World War II vintage.

In an address prepared for delivery to a joint meeting of the Navy League and the Minneapolis Foreign Policy Assn., Carney said: "The rise of the Soviet navy makes it crystal clear that the Soviet government is striving for a preeminent position in the maritime world. Already they have achieved second-ranking naval position in the building and expansion programs, both in noncombatant and merchant tonnage, can only lead one to believe that they are not content to remain a second-ranking sea power."

The admiral said there are some deficiencies in the U. S. fleet that

Six Children Hurt, One Critically By Hit, Run Driver

CHICAGO (AP)—An automobile ran into a group of children en route to school Monday and injured six of them, one critically.

The automobile did not stop, but police a short time later arrested its two occupants when they rammed their car into a building not far away. They were James Hoover and Willie J. Peeler, both 25-year-old Negroes.

Police said some witnesses told them the car was going at high speed when it struck the children, who were from 6 to 11, while they were returning to St. Helen's Parochial School on the West Side after lunch. However Hoover, the driver, said he was "joy riding along" at 25 or 30 miles an hour when his brakes failed.

Witnesses said a woman saved at least six other children from being hurt. She thrust them aside as the car passed.

One of the children suffered a skull fracture. Another had a broken leg. The others were in a hospital for treatment.

Wilson Blames Lack Of Knowledge For Criticism

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson blamed what he said were lack of knowledge and misunderstanding of the facts for criticism of Defense Department procurement policies.

Wilson's statement answered Sen. Jackson (D-Wash.) who said Sunday a concentration of defense contracts with General Motors Corp. in the first 18 months of the Eisenhower administration "greatly contributed to the monopolistic conditions in the auto industry." Wilson mentioned neither Jackson nor General Motors by name, however.

The defense chief said most of the contracts criticized actually were negotiated during the Truman administration. He said his office merely formalized those contract commitments.

In addition, he said, the military program has been "brought into balance, especially during the last 12 months."

The Defense Department also made public a letter from R. C. Launphy Jr., deputy assistant secretary of defense for supply and logistics, to Jackson, giving information on military procurement contracts with automobile companies, as requested by the senator.

Reprimand For McCarthy

Eden Proposes Speeding Up German Sovereignty

LONDON (AP)—British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden proposed Monday night the Western Allies speed up their timetable to get an agreement within 50 days on freeing and rearming West Germany.

Eden made his proposal on the eve of the fateful nine-power conference opening here Tuesday to bring West Germany into the free world's defense setup.

U. S. Secretary of State Dulles, following talks with Eden Sunday night and with French Premier Pierre Mendes-France Monday, was reported insisting on "substantial progress in 1954."

But at the last minute, the French injected a new and disturbing element by spreading word they wanted a Saar settlement under Brussels Pact auspices as a condition for their acceptance of West German rearmament.

Eden's new plan proposed postponing the NATO Council of Foreign Ministers, set for around Oct. 15, to give the Allies time to grant West Germany its sovereignty so it could become a partner in the Atlantic Alliance.

Diplomatic officials said Eden urged:

1. That the conference opening Tuesday conduct parallel talks. Foreign ministers of the United States, Britain, France and West Germany should arrange for the restoration of German sovereignty. The full nine-power conference would concentrate on German rearmament.

2. Experts would be instructed to work out details of the general agreements reached for the consideration of a second nine-power conference to be held within one month, presumably in London.

3. If the ministers agree on the details at their second meeting, they would jointly report at a special meeting of the NATO Council to be held not later than mid-November.

4. The NATO Council then would formally admit Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's West German Federal Republic as the 15th member of the intercontinental military alliance.

The agreement then would have to go through national parliaments for ratification.

The French idea—as outlined in corridor talk perhaps circulated mainly for bargaining purposes—is to have the disputed, coal-producing Saar border state put under control of the enlarged Brussels alliance, the same alliance through which the Germans would eventually supply troops for Western defense.

News of the French plan offset a wave of optimism among delegates about the chances for success at the conference.

Kramer Creditors To Receive Checks

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—About 1,200 checks totaling $45,000 will be mailed Thursday to creditors of bankrupt Arthur P. Kramer, a participant in a boom-bust auto sales scheme, it was announced Monday.

Basel H. Coutrakon, U. S. District Court referee in bankruptcy, said the checks will represent a return of 1.9 per cent. They will be signed by himself and by I. H. Streeter of Alton, trustee of the bankrupt estate, Coutrakon said.

Kramer, of Jerseyville, was a partner with the late Robert Knetzer of Edwardsville in the sale of new-cars during the post-war shortage. Eager customers were required to make large downpayments, and many received neither cars nor refunds.

The scheme collapsed in 1948. Kramer said that while the impending distribution is the first and presumably final payment to creditors, Kramer has not been discharged from bankruptcy and will remain liable for possible future payments.

Knetzer's affairs still are being disentangled. Coutrakon said a distribution of assets to Knetzer's creditors appeared unlikely before next spring.

Jews Observe New Year. NEW YORK (AP)—Rosh Hashana, the Jewish New Year, began at sundown Monday and Jews throughout the world celebrated the arrival of the year 5715.

The observance lasts two days.

Sets Stage For Battle Of Century

WASHINGTON (AP)—A public and official reprimand for Sen. McCarthy was recommended Monday by a Senate committee of three Democrats and three Republicans.

The committee said the Wisconsin Republican should be censured for conduct it described as contemptuous, contumacious, denunciatory, unworthy, inexcusable and reprehensible.

The report, which surprised many by its vigor, set the stage for what promises to be long and bitter debate in the special Senate session convening Nov. 8 to consider the recommendations.

In voting unanimously for censure on two of five main categories of charges, the investigating committee headed by Sen. Watkins (R-Utah) held that:

McCarthy was "contemptuous, contumacious and denunciatory" toward a Senate subcommittee which investigated his finances in 1952.

He made statements about fellow senators on the subcommittee that were "clearly intemperate, in bad taste and unworthy of a member of this body."

He treated Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker, when the general was a witness before him, in a manner that was "inexcusable" and "reprehensible."

The Watkins committee said other charges brought against the controversial senator "do not, under all the evidence, justify a resolution of censure."

These were that McCarthy had sought to incite federal employees to break the law to bring him government secrets, and that he had improperly received and used confidential information from executive files.

But while recommending against censure in these instances, the committee said the evidence did show McCarthy had "committed a grave error" and acted improperly, showing "a high degree of irresponsibility."

The Chicago Tribune said Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) made this comment on the Senate committee's recommendation:

"If the Senate upholds this report and all its implications, it will have gone a long way toward abdication of its constitutional right to investigate wrongdoings in the executive departments."

"I do not care whether I am censured or not but I will fight against establishing a precedent which will curb investigative power and assist any administration in power to cover up its misdeeds."

The Tribune said in a dispatch from Washington McCarthy made the statement at the Bethesda Naval Hospital where he is undergoing treatments for a chronic sinus condition.

McCarthy's lawyer, Edward Bennett Williams, said the senator will make a vigorous defense on the Senate floor that will require "quite a considerable time."

The White House kept out of the picture. Murray Snyder, President Eisenhower's assistant press secretary, said at Denver: "That's strictly Senate business. The White House will have no comment."

Also at Denver, Sen. Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.), vice chairman of the special committee, said:

"We were just to Sen. McCarthy. We gave him the benefit of every doubt, but we could not close our eyes to his treatment of his colleagues and witnesses who appeared before him."

Sen. Welker (R-Idaho) "unhesitatingly" rallied to McCarthy's side. He accused the Watkins committee of setting a precedent "for any senator, no matter how incompetent, to embarrass another by sending down a resolution of censure and accusing any senator of mistreatment of this or that person."

Hunger Strike In City Jail At Chicago Ends

CHICAGO (AP)—A plea for food ended a three-hour hunger strike Monday night at Chicago's crowded House of Correction.

The 108 striking inmates, who at lunchtime returned to their cells after sullenly staring with arms folded at plates of spaghetti, sent word to Warden Frank G. Sain asking for food.

Warden Sain said the demonstration was an aftermath of a three-hour riot Saturday protesting the serving of hot dogs three times in a week.

All those refusing food were on a coal shoveling gang. One member, Willie Smith, 24, of Chicago, was placed in solitary confinement because, Sain said, he had been a leader in Saturday's riot.

Nine other inmates are in solitary. Sain said there may be more as his investigation of the riot continues.

Earlier Monday Sain and State's Atty. John G. Gurnea conferred on plans to prosecute the riot leaders.

Stratton Denies 28 Clemency Bids

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Gov. Stratton Monday denied clemency applications by 28 prisoners convicted of murder, including 14 sentenced from downstate counties.

Downstate whose petitions were rejected were: Frank Spigler, Richard O'Neil and Henry Staples, all convicted in St. Clair County; Robert V. Beatty and Everett Madden, Vermillion; Howard Johnson, Will; Harry Sell, DeKalb; Fred Benner, White; John Henry Molton, Sangamon; Booker T. Northcutt, Clinton; Grover Sweeney, Morgan; High Joseph Worthington, Jefferson; Charles Roosevelt Winston, Madison; and Glen Sefton, Fayette.

Editorial Comment

RUSSIA'S NEW ATTITUDE

No one expects American reporters stationed in the Soviet Union to be able to report the truth of what they see—except now and then between the lines. What is anticipated is their return home, with the wraps off.

Such a moment is now at hand, with the return to America after five years of the New York Times' Moscow correspondent, Harrison Salisbury. His report is important reading for the whole free world.

His major observation, his principal message to all peoples outside Russia, is that the Soviet leaders have not in any way abandoned their goal of world conquest. They simply have changed their way of seeking it.

The late Joseph Stalin was a ruthless, budgeoning, inflexible autocrat who ruled singlehandedly. At home he ground the faces of his people, and abroad his stubborn rigidity drove his country into many blind alleys from which it could not escape.

Salisbury points out that the new rulers, Molotov, Malenkov, Khrushchev and Kaganovich, are employing more graceful tactics. They are displaying flexibility and adaptability. And they have made their approaches effective and even attractive in some ways.

Domestically, it is a story of less harsh police-state methods, though Salisbury stresses that the basic horrors still exist in shocking proportion. In addition, the new Soviet leaders have turned to production of greater volumes of consumer goods, to ease the strains for ordinary Russians long pressed down by military dictatorship.

So far, the average Soviet citizen seems not too greatly impressed by these apparent improvements. Suspicious long fed by Stalin's callousness cannot quickly be wiped away.

In foreign affairs it is a different matter. Russia clearly has scored notable successes at the Geneva conference and in the partitioning of Indo-China. Its policy of "sweetness and light" has enhanced neutralism in Europe and helped to create the climate in which a timid France could reject EDC, cornerstone of Western defense.

In neutralist circles in Europe, men evidently believe that the United States, not Russia, is the troublemaker. But even though we may have more consistently appreciated the peril of the Communist aims, Salisbury seems to think that our own diplomats may not fully understand the dangers in the new Russian attitude.

He quotes a Western diplomat on the point: "They (the Russians) speak so pleasantly, so apparently openly and with so much common sense that you must constantly remind yourself whom it is you are talking with. That's why, in a way, they are more dangerous than Stalin."

There is the essence of it. Stalin was a brutal line plunger. Malenkov and Co. are tricky forward passers. Obviously they are already too smart for the neutralists, whom they have beautifully fooled with their new offense. We had better make sure they are not too smart for us as well, or the free world will be lost.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Any parent who has to read the comics aloud regularly to his children may sympathize with Judge Charles F. Murphy.

In the new few weeks Judge Murphy, the new czar of the comics book industry, intends to study every comic publication in America, line by line, drawing by drawing.

"There are 350 titles," said the judge, a tall, big-framed, 44-year-old Irishman, "and I intend to read every one of them myself, until I can assemble a staff."

Disturbed by criticism that the so-called "funnies" had become a bad influence on children, the Comics Magazine Assn. of America, headed by John Goldwater, decided the 200-million-dollar-a-year industry needed a code of ethics and a strong man to enforce it.

Because of his record for helping youth, they offered the post to Murphy, former legal advisor to Mayor LaGuardia and a city magistrate for the last 9 years. They promised him complete authority, full cooperation and a $100,000 annual budget to do the job.

"I wouldn't have considered it at all if I weren't given a free hand," said Murphy. "Even so, it was a difficult decision to make."

Murphy, who has neither false pride nor false modesty, said he would use his authority forcefully. "I don't intend to let any family down in this job, and certainly not my own," he said.

"The publishers who conform to the code will carry an approved seal on the covers of all their books. Those that don't conform will be denied the seal—and they'll be publicly expelled from the association."

Many educators already have offered help in drawing up the code, which Murphy says will be stringent but simple.

"There will be no more horror and terror books," he said. "They will have to conform to the ordinary standards of good taste."

"Criminals won't be glorified. There will be no more suggestive art. Family life will be shown in the right perspective."

In his years on the bench Judge Murphy organized several projects to combat juvenile delinquency.

"I found that once a kid landed in court there were a number of agencies to help him," he said, "but there weren't enough agencies working to keep him from getting into the kind of trouble that led him to a courtroom."

Murphy doesn't believe that comic books in themselves are evil. "The initial cause" of juvenile delinquency

"It all goes back to the initial training in the home," he said. "You have to housebreak a child as you do a dog, except that you go farther—you teach him he must live up to the standards of the community as well as those you set in your home."

"Home training is forever basic. If children don't get the right discipline from the start, they'll later get into trouble by the hundreds, no matter what kind of homes they come from—rich, middle class or poor."

A Glance INTO THE PAST

10 YEARS AGO

Patricia Ann Goldstein of Virginia was seriously bitten by a dog. Mr. and Mrs. George Halbert observed their Golden Wedding anniversary.

Jacksonville Elks sent Christmas boxes to 32 of its members in the armed services. Mr. and Mrs. William J. Ford of Greenfield observed their 60th wedding anniversary.

20 YEARS AGO

Charles Ray former Jacksonville man was back in the movies in Hollywood.

John T. Conitas formerly of Rigdon died from injuries received in a railroad accident at Decatur.

Fifteen permanent houses were ready at the CCC camp at Carrollton. William Husker, 82, died at Bluffs.

50 YEARS AGO

There were 436 students enrolled at the Illinois School for the Deaf. A barn on the farm of James Gibson, five miles southeast of Murraysville, was struck by lightning and burned.

J. W. Marshall was receiving instructions in telegraphy from W. L. Ritchie, Wabash railroad agent at Markham. C. C. Harrison died at his home in Alexander.

Food and Future—Grandma!—System Works—Veep's Feet—Long Time—New Red Radio

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Long range lookers ahead, studying the growth of world population, are beginning to wonder how everybody will get enough to eat in 2004 A.D. Present world population is around 2.5 billion. In another 50 years it may be nearly double that, or around 4.8 billion. In 100 years it may be 6.7 billion.

Since one-half of the world is already undernourished, food production may have to be increased three-and-one-half times by the year 2050, says Dr. Harrison Brown in his new book, "The Challenge of Man's Future." This big increase may require a capital investment of $100 billion, he says.

But Dr. Brown doesn't think the world is headed for complete starvation. "If food habits were to change sufficiently so that people were content to derive their main nourishment from the products of algae farms and yeast factories, a world population of 50 billion persons could eventually be supported comfortably from the point of view of human nutritional requirements."

UNDERSECRETARY of Labor Arthur Larson argues that the question of whether a government policy is radical or conservative depends on the soundness of its ultimate objective—not on the means used to achieve the end. To illustrate his point, he recently told a University of Pittsburgh audience: "If grandma is seen driving down the street in a Jaguar sports car with dual exhausts, we do not have to shake our heads over grandma—if we know she is on her way to church. But if grandma is riding in a horse-drawn surrey, and if she is on her way to the gambling casino—then we have good cause to worry about grandma."

Barley's campaign for re-election to the Senate from Kentucky is taking its toll of his feet. When he lived in Washington he had a special preparation he used when his extremities gave him trouble. But he ran out of it a couple of weeks ago and had to make an emergency call to a former assistant here to send him some of the stuff in a hurry.

THE MORNING that Vice President Nixon and House Speaker Joe Martin took off on their campaign tour around the country the Republican National Committee set up a big breakfast at National Airport.

When Nixon was called upon to say a few words he mentioned the fact that this was the fifth major campaign he was embarking on. "But Joe here is more of a veteran at this than I am," he said, turning to the 70-year-old Martin. "How many does this make for you?" he asked.

"Oh my gosh," Martin retorted in a loud stage whisper, "that's a figure

The Mature Parent

Why It Makes Sense to Start Telling Child About Sex

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Howard was four and a half when he learned he was to become a brother. Some time later, he commented one day on his mother's changed appearance. Instead of ignoring him, she recognized her appropriate opportunity to tell him how babies were born.

He accepted the information without great surprise. Two days before, he had felt much greater astonishment to discover a hatched butterfly in the box in which he'd been keeping a chrysalis.

Two years later his mother seized another appropriate moment to increase his sex information. It came the afternoon the baby of a pretty young neighbor was born.

Before the neighbor left for the hospital, she was greatly agitated because she couldn't reach her husband at his office telephone. Howard was disgusted with her.

That evening, as his mother was telling his father what a hard time she'd had locating the young neighbor's husband, he exploded. "He said, 'What's the matter with her? Why couldn't she have her baby by herself without bothering her husband? Gee, I think she's an awful fussy'."

He accepted the news of the male role in conception as easily as he'd accepted the female's in the giving of birth.

I believe in early sex instruction of children. Those of us who don't might try to remember what it was like to be four, six and seven years old.

At these ages, we are so used to new marvels that they are commonplace. We are so accustomed to a miracle a minute in this Place of Wonders that the miracle of conception and birth is accepted as naturally as others.

Our first snow falls; soon we are playing in it as though we'd always played in snow. One minute we scream at the vacuum cleaner's roar; the next, we are demanding rides on it.

Watch a child at the seashore. How long does it take him to make friends with the waves? After the first encounter with the sea he doubts five minutes ago, is he happy with it—or isn't he?

This blessed readiness to make friends with new things, people and ideas is the special gift of early childhood that has not been poisoned by adult confusions.

If we are wise, we use it. We seize our appropriate chances to unfold to little boys and girls the great wonder of conception and birth before evil gets its chance to contaminate their innocent trustfulness. If we tell it simply, it is always simply received.

For a Tasty, Hurry-Up Meal Try This 35-Minute Quickie

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Pantry-shelf meals are popular with Mrs. W. Douglass of Baltimore. She has to feed a family of five—all active. So we asked her for a quick formula.

Here's one dinner menu that takes only 35 minutes of easy preparation.

Menu: Franks 'n' noodles, green beans vinaigrette, fruited cole slaw, crusty rolls, blueberry crisp, coffee, milk.

The dessert takes longest to cook.

Blueberry Crisp

Drain 1 15-ounce can blueberries in heavy syrup, reserving 1/3 cup syrup. Place blueberries and 1/3 cup syrup in 8- or 9-inch pie plate. Sprinkle with mixture of 1/3 cup brown sugar, 1/4 cup flour, 1/4 teaspoon salt and 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg; dot with 2 tablespoons butter or margarine. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees F.) 20 minutes, or until hot and bubbling. Keep warm up all dessert time; serve with cream (Note: If water-packed blueberries are used, increase brown sugar to 2/3 cup.)

Now the main dish.

Franks 'n' Noodles

Brown 1 medium onion, chopped, in 2 tablespoons butter or margarine in large frying pan. Add 1 No. 2 can tomatoes, 1 No. 2 can tomato juice, 1 teaspoon sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt and 1 bouillon cube dissolved in 1/4 cup hot water; mix well. Add 1/2 of an 8-ounce package broad egg noodles and 1 can (about 12-ounce) frankfurters cut in thirds. Simmer, uncovered, 12 minutes, stirring often to prevent sticking.

TOMORROW'S DINNER:

Franks 'n' noodles, green beans, potato salad, blueberry pie, coffee, ter or margarine, lettuce and tomato with mushrooms, hard rolls, but-ter, milk.

Inflammation of the Gums Often Caused by Bad Diet

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

Although not a dentist I do receive questions fairly frequently on dental matters and with the help of my dentist friends shall try to discuss some of these problems from time to time.

One of these problems is pyorrhea alveolaris, or as dentists prefer to call it, periodontal disease. This is an inflammation of the gums and several different types are recognized.

Several local causes have been incriminated: mechanical irritation, retention of food, poor function of the teeth or gums and infection. Also a considerable number of general diseases are thought to play a part in causing pyorrhea. Among these are allergy, bad diet, pregnancy, diabetes, Bright's disease, and certain disorders of the blood.

BECAUSE OF THE complicated causes for pyorrhea, the condition may be a problem for both the dentist and the physician. Local causes of course, can be treated best by the dentist who is able to attack the mechanical irritation and other dental faults.

Proper hygiene, that is, brushing of the teeth, is of course important between visits to the dentist.

The physician is in the best position to analyze and correct any general deficiencies of the human body which are playing a part in pyorrhea. If the diet is poor, then it is the physician who should find out what is lacking and recommend the necessary foodstuffs, or vitamins.

IF ALLERGY is partly responsible, then the allergic causes must be tracked down and corrective steps taken.

Similarly, diabetes, if present, must be properly treated. Bright's Disease and disorders of the blood must be diagnosed and everything done for them which can be done.

Few people now believe that pyorrhea is a serious cause of focal infection and likely or itself to produce arthritis, neuritis, or other disorders in distant parts of the body. Even when germs are present in the gums afflicted by pyorrhea, their poisons are probably not absorbed into the blood system and carried through the body to produce disease.

PYORRHEA nevertheless is not a condition which should ever be allowed to develop because it weakens the teeth and may interfere with the functions which the teeth and gums are supposed to fulfill.

Furthermore, pyorrhea or periodontal inflammation is one of the common causes of bad breath—a condition which seems to trouble an enormous number of people.

Since pyorrhea can usually be prevented by proper brushing of the teeth and be reasonably frequent and adequate dental care, together with attention to the general health, it is one of those disorders which it is better to prevent than to treat.

In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The trouble with being a Barrymore, says John Jr., is that you get bopped from all sides, especially from your family.

The junior profile is back in Hollywood to establish a firm basis for his acting career. He has a couple of pictures in the wind.

Having done John's first interview when he was 17, I called at his comfortable upstairs duplex apartment for a progress report. I found John II, a red-haired infant with the unmistakable Barrymore profile, bouncing in his baby carriage on the porch. John's wife, flame-haired Cara Williams, greeted me at the door.

We settled in the den and John said he had returned here for hard work to offset the reports of his critics. These include his family. You'll recall that recently producer Paul Gregory tried to buy family rights to "Good Night, Sweet Prince," the John Barrymore biography. Kirk Douglas was rumored for the role.

"I was up for another picture with Douglas; I guess that's off now," said young John. "He tried to make me the heavy in the affair. He said he wouldn't dare play my father, that made it appear I would. I wouldn't think of it now—until I'm at least 35."

John risked the family wrath by turning thumbs down on selling the rights.

"I told my mother that I didn't want to sell because playing my father was always my ambition. Do you know what she was getting? A mere $10,000, and $2,000 for my sister Dede. Why, any studio in town would give $100,000 for the rights."

John has also gotten it from his aunt Ethel. In a 75th birthday interview, she told me that no Barrymore ever behaved in the theater the way John Jr. has. The lad refused to enter into public controversy with Ethel beyond saying: "Take a look at the records 30 years back. You'll find my aunt had some pretty hot words with Mr. Frohman."

He added that Ethel has never complimented him to his face in his 22 years. But it's different with crusty old Uncle Lionel. This summer John sent Lionel some of the reviews he got in a summer theater tour. They were raves. One critic admitted entering the theater saying "This is a Barrymore" and leaving with "This IS a Barrymore!"

"Why, those were great," Lionel rumbled. "We never got lions like that when we were kids. The critic knocked our ears off."

Wife Must Stand Firm In Face of Divorce Threat

Any year in a marriage can be the "dangerous year." Here is a letter from a woman who has been married 33 years—most of them happy ones.

She and her husband have three grown children and five grandchildren.

Six years ago her husband took a job as a traveling salesman and the wife says it was then that they began to grow apart.

Now the husband has asked for a divorce, admitting that he has no grounds, but just wants to be free.

The wife has told him that she won't get a divorce and wonders if she has made the right decision.

SAYING "NO" IS RIGHT DECISION
Of course she has. By saying "No" to her husband's request for a divorce she is protecting her husband as much as she is protecting herself. If she let him leave her now she would be cutting him off from a normal relationship to his children and grandchildren. She would be depriving him of the security of knowing that a wife who has stood by him through the young and middle years is there to stand by him during the years of old age when a man needs nothing so much as the woman who has shared his life through the years.

And even when they are grown there are still children to consider. As long as they both live those children have a right to expect their parents to look after each other.

As for the wife, herself, she has put 33 years of love and work and loyalty into her marriage—so why should she toss that all overboard simply because her husband has decided he would like to be free?

Free for what—to marry some woman who is looking for a meal ticket, some woman to whom his past life is a blank, his former wife a dope who gave him up without a struggle and his children nothing but strangers? If that is the kind of freedom he thinks he wants, his wife had better keep the marriage knot secure.

Manners Make Friends

If you and a friend go shopping, and you feel that the saleslady waiting on you is rude or inefficient, don't comment on her shortcomings in a voice loud enough for the store employee to hear.

Keep your temper. It's not in good taste, or kind, to be rude—and who knows, the saleslady may have trouble on her mind.

CLOTHES MAKE MAN?

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—"Hurry," the excited caller told police headquarters. "There's a man hanging from a window on the 12th floor of the hotel."

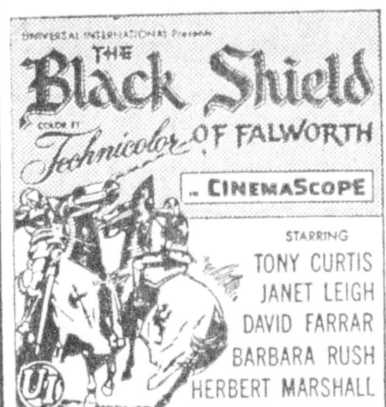

Police squad cars reported back, "Just a pair of pants drying—cancel call."

Freeman Francis, a clothes presser at the hotel, had washed the trousers and hung them out the window on a piece of wire to dry. To the excited passerby the shadow of the swaying trousers on the side of the building looked like a man.

Man Sought For $800 Robbery Is Nabbed Sunday

After being a fugitive for several weeks, Arthur Wakenight of this city was placed under arrest Sunday at Grand Detour, Ill., on request of Jacksonville police, to face a warrant charging grand larceny. Wakenight has been hunted since Aug. 19 when $800 was stolen from the safe at the Hopper & Hamm furniture store in this city.

Ogle county authorities notified Sheriff Earl Hembrough and Chief Ike Flynn that the wanted man is in custody. Hembrough and Flynn left Monday to take charge of the prisoner.

The Associated Press reported later Monday that Wakenight was apprehended by 15 officers armed with shotguns and pistols, who surrounded a dwelling in Grand Detour and made the arrest without firing a shot. He was then taken to Oregon, Ill., county seat of Ogle county.

Wakenight formerly lived in northern Illinois and officers in that section were asked to keep watch for him.

Here is A Note That Will Interest The College Gals

College coeds seem to agree that at least one good suit is a "must" for every college girl.

Jane Warden, clothing specialist at the University of Illinois, asked girls in her classes to list the clothes which they felt were necessary for college girls. They listed the suit, which can be dressed up or down, as an important part of every girl's wardrobe. If you have only one suit, it had better be a basic color.

The students also felt that one wool or jersey casual-type dress, and one velvet or taffeta dressy dress were needed. Separate, such as velveteen or taffeta skirts and dressy blouses, could also be considered here.

Knitted suits were recommended highly because they need so little care and are so practical for traveling.

The girls felt that one formal, with accessories that could be varied, would be adequate, or long skirts with dressy blouses could be worn to change off.

An evening wrap was considered nice if you could afford it, but a spring shortie or a reversible coat that has one side of velvet would do just as well.

The girls felt that every coed needed at least one hat, one pair of high-heeled shoes and one pair of dressy flats.

Schooltime is here—That Is Certain Isn't It?

Well, when you buy back-to-school clothes for your growing youngsters, be sure they will allow for growth, are becoming to your child and are easy to care for. Elastic waistbands, adjustable suspenders and deep hems are important points to watch for. Make sure, also, that the materials will not shrink, fade or "run" when washed. "The label should tell."

Separates and the ever-popular jumper are favorites again this year. A blouse or dress underneath the jumper makes it a smart-looking fashion for any little girl.

The washable cotton plaids are always popular and practical. Look for them this year with the crease-resistant finish that makes them so easy to care for. With fall coming before we know it, choose the dark colored cottons. They will be practical until really cold weather arrives.

And don't forget the pretty but practical selection of denims and corduroys. They're fashionable for both boys and girls.

Well—it's time to start harvesting that sweet corn too and one of the secrets of serving fresh, juicy corn is to select it carefully.

You can tell a lot about the quality of corn just by looking at the outside. You don't need to rip open every ear. Look for dark green husks that are firmly wrapped around the ear. Corn with yellow or whitish husks is likely to be old. Corn that is fresh has silk that is dark brown and moist, whereas old, poor-quality corn has dry or matted silk that crumbles at the slightest touch.

Some markets feature corn that is packaged or stripped of husks and silk. This makes it even easier to make a good choice. Just look for plump, glossy kernels. Old corn has kernels that look dull and are either flat on top or have dents in the center.

The milk stage makes for best table quality. Make a test with your thumb nail. If a white fluid comes out under slight pressure, the corn is just right.

Keep corn sweet and good in quality when you get it home by giving it a drink. Put it in cold water for 10 or 15 minutes—husk and all. Then, to keep it moist, wrap it in a damp cloth or a plastic bag and store it in the coldest part of your refrigerator which is the lowest compartment.

Masonic Council
Installs Stocker
As New Master

The first meeting of the fiscal year of Jacksonville Council No. 5, Royal and Select Masters, was held at the Masonic Temple on Friday evening with Thrice Illustrious Master Cornelius Stocker presiding.

Plans were formulated for the conferring of the Royal and Select Masters Degrees under the direction of the Principal Conductor of the Work. Plans were also suggested for a pot-luck supper for members and their ladies to precede the October meeting, which will be a special night honoring Alfred Leake, Past T. I. M. of the local Council and Mrs. Leake. Members interested in attending the annual convention of the Grand Council to be held at Herrin, Ill. on October 1 and 2 should contact the presiding officer, Cornelius Stocker. Tentative arrangements are being made for the District School of Instruction which will be held in Jacksonville on the scheduled date of November 6.

The new officers of the Council who were installed at the preceding meeting, are Cornelius Stocker, Thrice Illustrious Master; Floyd Boston, Illustrious Deputy Master; Bill Jarrett, Principal Conductor of the Work; John Phillips, Recorder; Ernest Pires, Treasurer; Wm. H. Ricks, Captain of the Guard and Carl C. Ore, Conductor of the Council. Other appointive officers have not been filled.

Heavy Receipts Exert Pressure On Hog Market

NATIONAL STOCK YARDS, Ill. — Seasonally large marketings exerted pressure on hog prices during the week and cattle varied from steady to moderately lower, according to the Producers Live Stock Marketing Association. Spring lambs were able to regain early losses and closed on a stronger basis.

Hog receipts for the second week in a row totaled the largest for 1954 and Monday's top of $19.85 cwt. represented a new low in more than 19 months. Some subsequent recovery, however, lifted Friday's peak to $20.25 cwt., paid for two select leads. After five days of trading barrows and gilts figured 25 to 35c net lower; lighter weights steady to 25c higher, and packing sows unevenly 25c to $1.25 lower, with the greatest decline on lighter weights.

A broad shipping demand helped stabilize prices for top grades of steers and heifers, while all others were mostly 50c lower despite a reduction of 20 per cent in general cattle receipts from the previous week. Choice steers sold at $23 to $24.75, a moderate showing reaching $25 and $25.75, the top. Most good and low choice heifers brought $20 to $23; commercial and low good $16.50 to $20. Cows lost an early advance to close unchanged, while steady terms applied to bulls and veal calves, the latter selling downward from $21.

Spring lambs finished steady to 25c higher, spots up 50c, top late $19.25. Bulk of lambs for the week comprised good and prime that sold from $17 to $19. Utility and good kinds cleared at $15 to $16.50. Feeder lambs were mostly around $15, and slaughter ewes held steady at $3 to mostly $4, a few $4.25 and $4.50.

In the Chicago wholesale market, steer and heifer beef closed steady to weak; veal and calf steady to 1c a pound lower; spring lamb and fresh pork loins 3 to 4c down; Boston butts, 4 to 8 pounds, steady; spareribs, 3 pounds down, 1c off. Trading was slowed to some extent by the forthcoming Jewish holiday observances when various markets will suspend both wholesale and retail operations.

No Wonder Mothers Love this Relief from Suffering of Colds

DOES MORE THAN WORK ON CHEST!

Nothing works like Vicks VapoRub to relieve suffering of colds. VapoRub does more than just work on the chest. It acts two ways at once.

1. VapoRub relieves muscular soreness and tightness, stimulates chest surfaces.

2. At the same time, VapoRub's special medicated vapors also bring relief with every breath.

You can't see these vapors, but you can feel them as they travel deep into the nose, throat and large bronchial tubes. Congestion starts breaking up. Coughing eases. Soon you enjoy warming relief that lasts for hours.

So when colds strike, use the best-known home remedy to relieve such suffering—Vicks VapoRub.

Deaf Man Perfects Hearing Aid Without Tubes

Only 9c a month to operate

H. A. Lyons today voiced new hope to the hard of hearing by announcing the perfection of the miracle new MIDGET TRANSITOR hearing aid. Lyons, who has been deaf himself for over 25 years, says a new life is open to people who have been "shut out" from the enjoyment of everyday happenings.

With this amazing midget aid you will once again enjoy hearing children's voices, birds singing, the radio, even the ticking of the clock, and the thousand and one daily happenings you have missed for so long.

The new aid uses a single cell, and is so inexpensive that a year's supply is furnished free with the aid. No hope to the hard of hearing by more constant changing of batteries. What is more, the aid may be worn so your closest friends need never know.

This new hearing aid will give you better hearing and clearer understanding than any other hearing aid, because it is personally fitted to your individual requirements.

It is suggested, if interested for yourself or a friend, write H. A. Lyons, Dept. 3025 First National Bank Bldg., Peoria, Illinois, and he will be glad to send further information, at no cost or obligation.

Denney and son, Shawn, and Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Harp.

The honored guest received a shower of gifts from his friends.

Mrs. F. Todd Entertains
Mrs. Fred Todd entertained with a dinner at the Towne House Cafe Wednesday night complimenting her friend, Mrs. Ben Locher, who observed her birthday anniversary on Tuesday, Sept. 21.

Mrs. Locher received a number of nice gifts.

The group was comprised of Mesdames Locher, Hazel Sage, Eola Lenning, and Guy Langley. The ladies adjourned to the Todd home for the remainder of the evening.

All Day Party
Mr. and Mrs. Guy Langley entertained with an "all day party" Sunday at their cottage at Patterson Bay.

The day began with a breakfast and included a fish dinner served at noon.

Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Todd, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Locher, Mrs. Eola Lenning, Mrs. Hazel Sage, Mr. and Mrs. Al Harding. The affair honored one of the guests, Mrs. Locher, whose birthday anniversary occurred the next week.

Briefs

THE STORY OF MARTHA WAYNE

PRISCILLA'S POP

SUSPECT

By Hugh Lawrence Nelson

Copyright 1954 by Hugh Lawrence Nelson, Distributed by NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: Mrs. Angelica Jones, sister-in-law of Jim Dunn's eldest, is dead and the facts point to murder at the Colorado mountain lodge where Jim and his bride Nancy are posing as caretakers in order to do a detective work for Mrs. Kit Carlson. Jim has just found the body in the basement, lying on an elevator used to bring up wood for the upstairs fireplace.

XIII
NANCY had on her blue jeans, her trim boots and fitted jacket. Jim put his arm around her, pulled her up for a kiss.

He told her about the body, and went on, "The phone's dead, honey. I guess it's up to you to get to a phone. The one in that gatekeeper's shack might be working. Or you might have to go clear into Creek Junction. Get the sheriff. Tell him what's happened. I'll stay here to make certain nothing is disturbed."

Nancy Dunn's face was white and drawn. She said, "Our—our client?"

"Yes. One dead man beside a California swimming pool. A dead woman in a wood elevator in Colorado. But both with crushed skulls. Both found when Mrs. Kit and her faithful retainer were alone in the house. You think the local sheriff is going to write that off as a coincidence?"

"What are you going to do, Jim?"

"Find out some things," Dunn said grimly.

Jim watched his car climb up the road toward the plateau. He looked beyond Miss Wister's coupe, looked at the moving water of the lake. He knew it was only his imagination, but that body of water did not appear so beautiful now.

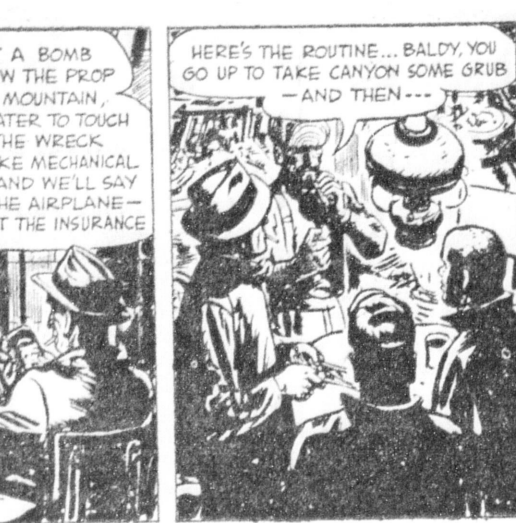

He heard Mrs. Kit screaming as soon as he was inside the kitchen door.

"No no no! Not again! Please not again!"

Pastor To Speak Of Ministry Work At Leprosarium

An interesting speaker with an unusual topic will be at the Chapin Christian church at 7:30 Friday evening, October 1st. He is Dr. Clifton E. Rash of Des Moines, Iowa, former Protestant chaplain at the government leprosarium in Carville, La., who will discuss his ten year ministry to leprosy patients at Carville. The general public is cordially invited to attend.

Now a field speaker for American Leprosy Missions, national Protestant agency which aids 160 leprosy colonies in 38 countries in cooperation with 61 denominational and interdenominational mission boards, Dr. Rash will speak under the auspices of the Chapin church.

DR. RASH

During his stay at Carville, which coincided with the development of the sulfones in leprosy therapy, Dr. Rash witnessed many miracles of medical science and of spiritual development. His congregation at the Community Church there was composed of members of some 20 different denominations.

When he retired from the Carville chaplaincy two years ago, Dr. Rash joined American Leprosy Missions in order to continue his campaign for fair and enlightened treatment of the leprosy victim.

The Protestant ministry at Carville, including the salary of the chaplain, is supported by American Leprosy Missions, which gave the government institution its Chapel and chaplains living quarters.

The Missions body also pays the expenses for missionary doctors and nurses to study at Carville for a few weeks.

INTERMEDIATE CLASS ELECTS OFFICERS

Sixteen Intermediates met at Century Church Sunday evening under the leadership of Miss Marilyn Todd. They elected for their officers for the next three months:

Harlan Gotschall, president; Robert Taylor, Jr., vice president; Joyce Bradshaw, secretary; Larry Keenher, treasurer.

They then united in the evening worship with the Senior Methodist Youth Fellowship. The youth counselors for this group is composed of Dr. Nolan Smith, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Fairfield, Mrs. H. P. Honstead and Miss Marilyn Todd, adult leader.

A total of 22,731 veterans are taking on-farm training compared with 7,000 a year ago.

LOSE UGLY FAT TODAY AND

TAKE INCHES OFF OF HIPS AND WAISTLINE WITH

HUNGER TABLETS

Newest of formulas recently brought to light by medical science is HUNGER TABLETS a preparation to take fat off hips and waistline and will not affect the heart. For many who have tried "reducing treatments" and who have lost faith in them because of exaggerated claims and ineffectual results, HUNGER TABLETS bring new hope. Simply take 2 tablets before each meal and see if your clothes don't fit and look more attractive, especially around fat spots such as hips, waist, abdomen, etc. No strict diet is required. Insist on HUNGER TABLETS at your druggist. A 16 day supply for less than 19c per day.

High School Boy Injured On Bike

Myron Hamey, 14 year old Jacksonville high school freshman, was temporarily "knocked out," and also suffered cuts and bruises at 8:30 o'clock Monday morning in a bicycle accident in the 200 block on South Prairie street.

Hamey was found sprawled on the pavement after he fell from his bicycle. Cooney's ambulance was called and the boy was taken to Passavant hospital. Chief Ike Flynn and Patrolman Cloyd Willic were on the scene of the accident.

Later in the morning it was reported that young Hamey was not seriously hurt, but that he would remain at the hospital overnight for observation. He said he didn't know what happened to cause him to crash to the pavement.

The boy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Hamey, 906 Edgemoor Road.

British Church Leader Will Be Chapel Speaker

Dr. Eric W. Baker, secretary of the Methodist Conference of Great Britain, will be the guest speaker at the 11 a.m. Chapel Service at MacMurray College, Tuesday, September 28.

Dr. Baker, who was an official delegate to the World Council of Churches in Evanston last month, was born in Birmingham, England. He received his Master's Degree in Honours Classics and Theology from Cambridge University, and his Ph.D. from Edinburgh University. In 1926, Dr. Baker was ordained as a Methodist minister. He has served in Birmingham, Derby, Edinburgh and London (Harrow). From 1946 to 1951, he was Education Secretary, Methodist Church of Great Britain and since 1951 has been Secretary of the Conference. He is the author of several books on religion, his latest being "Preaching Theology," published in 1954.

The Chapel service will be conducted by Dr. McKendree M. Blair, chaplain of MacMurray. The music for the service will be "The Lord is My Light," by Allister, sung by Mrs. Helen Houden Hamilton, Mrs. Nola Baker, Joseph C. Cleeland and Frederick Segar. The public is cordially invited.

Dad Reunited With 15-Year-Old Girl: Victim Of Amnesia

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (P)—A father was reunited with his 15-year-old daughter Sunday night in a Springfield hospital where she was treated for amnesia.

Issac Deeb of Mishawaka, Ind., drove to Springfield after reading an Associated Press story in the South Bend (Ind.) Tribune Sunday about a girl who asked Springfield police to find out who she was.

Deeb identified her as his daughter, Rose Marie, missing for eight days. They left for Mishawaka to rejoin her mother, Mrs. Edna Deeb.

The girl had told policeman Ray Sanford that her last recollection was of being in the St. Louis bus station. Police said she was carrying no identification.

1953 CHAMPS TO BE IN ILLINOIS CORN PICKING CONTEST

BLOOMINGTON, Ill. (P)—Bernard H. Eckhoff of Pontiac, Ill., and Chester Long of Minook, Ill., the 1953 champions, are among 20 farmers entered in the third annual Illinois Corn Picking Contest.

The contest will be held Oct. 3 on the Henry Capen farm, one mile east of Bloomington. It's part of a two-day celebration, officially proclaimed "Corn Harvest Days" by Gov. Stratton.

This year's winners will go to Janesville, Wis., on Oct. 16 for the National Corn Picking Contest.

Winchester PTA Has Open House; Many Attend

WINCHESTER—A large group of parents attended the first meeting of the Winchester Grade School PTA meeting Thursday evening, I. L. Kimmel, Unit Superintendent, and James Dudley, School Principal, gave welcome remarks. Members of the faculty were introduced.

Mrs. Raymond Long, president, announced that Mrs. Urban Sauer had been named Chairman of the Grade School Penny Carnival, to be held Oct. 29. Mrs. Sauer asked parents to save plants and articles for the fish pond.

Mrs. Dick Coultas gave the estimated budget for the PTA for the coming year. Expenses were estimated at $666 and it was anticipated that income would be that amount, from the carnival, bake sale, and dues. Mrs. Coultas also announced that repairs had been made in the boy's rest room, that more adequate safety measures were to be taken for approaches to the school.

Mrs. Long named Mrs. Merle Balke and Mrs. Allan Watt to assist seventh grade teachers in picking out pictures for the two rooms, to be paid for by the PTA.

Miss Katherine Meyers led in group singing, accompanied by Mrs. Fred Edwards.

Richard Mann discussed the re-appointment bill, which is being endorsed by the Illinois Congress of PTA.

In the attendance count for the parents attending, Mrs. Campbell's room was given the traveling record player, and Mrs. Evan's room was given the traveling radio.

Refreshments were served by Eighth Grade Mothers, with Mrs. Robert Coon and Mrs. Clifford Killyer, Room Mothers, in charge.

Election Of Officers

At an organizational meeting of the Methodist Youth Fellowship the following officers were elected: Randy Banner, president; Ellis Wade, vice president; Wanda Robinson, secretary; David Goodell, treasurer; Jack Barrow, MRY treasurer, and Pat Duvall, publicity chairman.

It was decided to have Five Areas of Worship, with the following voted as Chairmen of the Program Areas: Linda Williams, Christian Outreach; Shirley Coon, Christian Faith; Nancy Coultas, Christian Witness; Nancy Liddard, Christian Citizenship, and Mary Ann Scholfield, Christian Fellowship.

Mrs. Everett Dunham is Adult Counselor of the MYF, and the following are counselors: Lorella Glosop, Bob Coultas, Nola Coon, Geraldine Coon, and Virginia Allen.

Wedding Rehearsal Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Campbell entertained members of the wedding party and a few additional guests at a rehearsal dinner at Hotel Winchester Saturday evening for his daughter, Jo Ann, who will become the bride of Donald Hanback Sunday afternoon, at the Baptist Church.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Ray Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Roach, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Shannon, Jacksonville, Mrs. Arlie Hanback and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne King, Alsey, Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Haggard, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Hoots, Miss Nancy Hendershott, Miss Beverly Vogler, and Miss Patricia Reese, both of Decatur, Mrs. Nora Bean, Rev. and Mrs. William Sealock.

Mr. and Mrs. Myrin Campbell and daughter, Patricia, have moved to their new home in Greenfield, having sold their property here to Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Rueter. Mr. Campbell will operate a new Cities Service Station at Greenfield.

Mrs. Goldie Thomas returned to her home this week from Our Saviour's Hospital in Jacksonville but expects to enter the hospital soon for surgery.

Mrs. Audrey Lashmet was guest of honor at a supper party Tuesday evening, celebrating her birthday. Members of her card club met, following supper at Slagles, at the home of Mrs. Jess Saffer.

Miss Henriette Hainsfurther leaves Sunday for a visit in Dayton with her sister and family. Richard Brown, who is enrolled as a junior in the Civil Engineering College at the University of Illinois, has returned to Champaign after spending the week and at home.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Marshall spent this week end in Aurora and Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Tate left Friday evening to spend the week end visiting their parents, near Windsor, Illinois. Mrs. Tate's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Storm, are celebrating their 40th wedding anniversary, Sunday.

CONGRESS MOVED TWO WAYS CHANDLER SAYS

WASHINGTON (P)—The business manager for the federal court says the last Congress moved in opposite directions by providing for 30 more judges but failing to make a proportionate increase in appropriations.

Henry P. Chandler, head of the administrative office of U. S. courts, said in his report to Chief Justice Warren, made public Saturday night, that all federal judges will have to operate on a restricted budget.

DR. RILEY, NATIVE OF ILLINOIS, DIES

PITTSBURGH (P)—Funeral services will be held Tuesday in Gibson City, Ill., for Dr. George Washington Riley, former president of the American Osteopathic Assn., who died Saturday in Pittsburgh.

Dr. Riley, was 88. Born in Lerna, Ill., he was a graduate of Illinois State Normal University. He practiced in New York about 50 years.

Sightless Teacher Home From Europe

A sightless teacher who travels like, and in each city I have a personal escort engaged. I get along by using the services available for all travelers—porters, bellboys and stewards. I never depend upon my travel companions for necessary assistance; but I invariably form fine friendships and receive many more offers of help than I ever need. I find people surprisingly understanding and I make friends everywhere.

"I find the one thing that contributes most to my enjoyment of any trip is the type of escort I engage in each city—always a person who lives in that city, who knows its life and its people. We do our traveling together within the city and vicinity by streetcar, bus, subway, going the way the people go, mingling with them in a familiar manner that makes one a part of the life of the place even if briefly. I find escorts and friends wonderful at describing, and at getting me in first hand contact with things. I feel I lose little or nothing because of the lack of sight."

In her article in the Illinois Braille Messenger, which has a wide circulation among the sightless, Miss Kimbel gave a detailed description of the countries she toured and her impressions of the places she visited. The article was captioned "At Last I See Europe."

"For a person without sight, it is absolutely imperative to organize every detail far in advance," Miss Kimbel said in an article which appears in the October issue of the Illinois Braille Messenger, a quarterly publication issued only in Braille at the local school. "To this end, I obtain every kind of information and carefully record it in Braille weeks ahead of time."

Asks $100,000 For 'Railroading' Into Mental Hospital

CHICAGO (P)—Mrs. Janice L. Goldstein Fisch, 51, has charged in a $100,000 damage suit that her husband and three doctors "railroaded" her into a mental institution.

The suit, filed Sept. 4 in Circuit Court, alleges Mrs. Fisch, since released from the Elgin State Hospital, was sent there to keep her from prosecuting a separate maintenance divorce suit then pending.

Named in the suit are her ex-husband, Maurice C. Fisch, 65; Dr. Bernard Skorodin, medical officer at the Cook County Psychopathic Hospital; Dr. Edward J. Kelleher, director of the Psychiatric Institute of Municipal Court, and his assistant, Dr. William Hall, now serving in the Navy.

Fisch is a retired official of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America.

Mrs. Fisch said in her suit she was committed Aug. 9, 1952, and was released to her own custody Sept. 10, 1952 after a sanity hearing ordered by the attorney general of Illinois on her behalf.

Widow Finds Tots, Sitter Dead When She Returns Home

SCRANTON, Pa. (P)—A Scranton woman returned home Sunday from a wedding party to find her three small children and their elderly baby sitter dead.

Dr. Paul E. Kabasko, Lackawanna County coroner, ruled the deaths were caused by accidental asphyxiation.

Mrs. Ruth Gospoderek told police she returned home at 1:30 Sunday morning to find the dead bodies. Patricia Ann, 21 months, was in her crib; Mary Jane, 5, was in bed, and 4-year-old Katherine Ann was snuggled against the baby sitter, John Bell, 65, on the divan. Mrs. Gospoderek said she found an oven jet partially opened. Her husband, Jack, died last April.

Bishop Seil To Engage In Battle With Communism

CHICAGO (P)—Bishop Bernard J. Sheil, who once termed Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) an "ineffective headline hunter," says he will devote all of his available time and resources to fight for freedom against Communist tyranny.

Bishop Sheil, 66, Roman Catholic auxiliary bishop of Chicago, said in a statement Sunday night his aim will be "to show the destructiveness of communism to individual morals and to the political morality of the world."

The statement said the bishop's participation as director and actor in the Freedom Festival, a pageant to be presented at the International Amphitheatre Sunday, will be "a first big step in this fight against tyranny."

The prelate recently resigned as director general of the Catholic Youth Organization. Net proceeds from the freedom festival are to go to the CYO.

Bishop Sheil called Sen. McCarthy, who also is a Roman Catholic, a headline hunter in a speech to the CIO United Auto Workers last April 9.

"I take a pretty dim view of some noisy anti-Communists—one in particular, the junior senator from Wisconsin," the Bishop said at that time. "I do not take dim view of them because they are anti-Communists, but because they are such pitifully ineffective anti-Communists. I hate to see anti-Communism identified with... playing for the grandstand."

Car Jumps Curb, Breaks Window

An automobile got out of control early Sunday morning, jumped the curb and collided with the front of the Walker Furniture store at the northeast corner of the public square. The west display window was shattered.

Harvey Reynolds of Jacksonville route 6 told police he dozed off while driving. He complained of pain in his chest, and later went to Our Saviour's hospital for examination.

Patrolmen Quinlan and Hill went to the furniture store where the crash occurred, at 5:42 a.m. Reynolds appeared at the police station a few minutes later and reported the accident.

PASSAVANT SEWING UNIT WILL NOT MEET THURSDAY Because of a misunderstanding a notice was published in the Sunday Journal Courier by the publicity chairman for the Passavant Aid's sewing unit concerning a regular meeting of the group on Sept. 30. This was an error the group does not meet until Thursday, Oct. 7.

JACKSON, WATERLOO LAWYER RITES SET

WATERLOO, Ill. (P)—Funeral services will be held Tuesday for Harry E. Jackson, 61-year-old Waterloo city attorney and a member of the Bi-State Development Agency, who died of heart disease at his home Saturday.

Jackson, former superintendent of Monroe County schools, was named to the development agency in 1949 and was re-appointed in 1953.

Registration For Nov. 2 Election Will End Soon

A single registration day will be held in each of Morgan county's 44 voting precincts on Tuesday, Oct. 5, for all persons whose names do not appear on the registration books. This will be the last chance for voters to register for the election Nov. 2.

Registration, however, is being carried on daily at the office of County Clerk George T. Douglas. It isn't necessary to wait until the last day to register, or to make inquiries. "If you are not sure whether you registered, or have any other questions, make inquiries now," the county clerk said.

Persons who have changed address, those whose names have been changed through marriage, or any other changes that would affect the registration status, should register again.

Voters who have not changed their place of residence, and whose status is unchanged, need not register as their names are on the lists.

Service men and women still in the armed service or having been discharged within 60 days prior to the election, are eligible to vote without registration.

On Tuesday, Oct. 5, the poll books will be sent to the various voting places, where precinct judges will conduct the final day of registration.

Regional Meetings For Clubwomen Start This Week

The Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs is starting the 1954-1955 Club year with the usual regional conferences.

The state officers and board members travel to centrally located cities within each region and there hold conferences with club women of that region. Here the year's work is outlined and each state chairman tells her plans for the club year.

There will be two Central regional conferences for club women of this district. The first will be held on Tuesday, Sept. 28, in Taylorville at the First Methodist Church, Walnut and Market Streets, and the second will be on Friday, October 1, in the Christian Church at Galesburg. Both meetings will start at 10 a.m.

Luncheon reservations for the Taylorville meeting may be made with Mrs. Mel E. Willey, Route 3, Taylorville, while luncheon reservations for the Oct. 1 meeting in Galesburg are to be made with Mrs. W. W. Baker, 546 East Olive Street, Galesburg.

NEW COUNCILOR OF DEMOLAY TO OPEN MEETING TUESDAY

Louis Henry Clamptit Chapter, Order of DeMolay, and its Mother's Circle will each meet Tuesday evening at the Masonic Temple at 7:30 p.m.

Robert Smith, newly installed Master Councilor, will preside over the Chapter meeting, which will include formulating plans for the term.

Due to the illness of Mrs. Clarendon Smith, the Mother's Circle president, Mrs. Rane Maxwell will be in charge of the Mothers' meeting.

The Circle officers will be hostesses for the refreshments to be served following the two meetings. All DeMolays and DeMolay Mothers are urged to be present for these important meetings.

Robt. L. Plummer, Former Virginia Man, Succumbs

VIRGINIA, Ill. — Robert Lee Plummer, 77, son of the late Elijah and Susie Bunce Plummer of Virginia, died Friday morning, September 24, at his home in Chicago. He suffered a fall several months ago, injuring his back and from which he was unable to recover.

He was born in Virginia and graduated from the Virginia high school with the class of 1896 and taught in the local schools for a number of years. He later went to Chicago, where he was employed in the mail order department of Sears, Roebuck & Company. He was retired at the time of his death.

He is survived by his widow, and one son, Robert Lee, Jr., of Chicago; one brother, Charles M. Plummer and two sisters, Mrs. B. O. Springer and Mrs. Carroll Knight, of Virginia; Mrs. Bruce Birmingham, of Chicago; Mrs. Carl Ericson, of McLean, Va. Three sisters preceded him in death.

Funeral services will be held at a funeral home in Chicago and burial will be made in Acacia Park Mausoleum Tuesday afternoon.

Charles M. Plummer, Mr. and Mrs. B. O. Springer and Miss Mary Ann Devlin, of Virginia, left Monday to attend the funeral services.

MacMillan At 79 Back From North Plans Next Trip

BOOTHBAY HARBOR, MAINE, (P)—Rear Adm. Donald B. MacMillan, 79-year-old explorer returned only Sunday from his 30th trip to the far north, but already is making plans for another voyage there next year.

In the three months since he sailed from here, MacMillan said his 81-foot schooner at times bucked winds of 120 miles an hour on the trip to within 11 degrees of the North Pole.

"Never had anything like it for gales and foul weather," said MacMillan, but that makes it the more interesting. I'm planning to go back next year."

Former Illinois National Guard Commander Dies

CHICAGO (P)—Lt. Gen. George F. Ferry, former commander of the Illinois National Guard died Saturday of a cerebral hemorrhage. He was 59.

Gen. Ferry enlisted in the Guard as a private in 1920. He commanded the 132nd Infantry Regiment of the 33rd Division, Illinois National Guard on Guadalcanal and during other World War II South Pacific campaigns.

He had served as a United States Steel Corp. executive in the Chicago area since 1916.

Workers along the line stop at the railway store. Some 22,000 men work for the railway.

RAILWAY WORKERS in Mexico don't even have to leave the job to do their food shopping. On 18 divisions of the National Railways, some 18 railcar stores offer a full line of grocery products at nearly cost prices. Approximately two thousand tons of food a month will be distributed to the mobile cars by warehouse feeder cars. These car stores will service workers scattered over 1,099 whistle stops. Each car on a division will pass along its route semi-monthly, attached to scheduled freight trains. The rolling grocery stores also will sell to poor families along the way. Each store has two men.

Inside the car, the manager and his assistant sell variety of groceries at low prices.

Lemon, Maglie Likely Starters As New York Warms Up For Series

SPORTS TRAIL

BY WHITNEY MARTIN
NEW YORK (AP)—The Old Professor was giving a fair imitation for a frustrated forward passer as he called to order his Monday morning class of football coaches. That is, he was pretty well bottled up and you could tell he'd been having an uncooking good time. He mopped his fevered brow.

Old Professor—Whew, it's hot in here, gentlemen.

Forest Evashevski, Iowa—You're hot! Our bench was on fire all the time last Saturday. I'm very proud of the reserves who did such a fine job against Michigan State after injuries hampered the team. If there ever was a team victory this was it. We thought we were finished in the third quarter. The boys were exhausted. We still have a long way to go.

Old Professor—I'm sorry Hugh Daugherty isn't present today. He probably feels a little tough.

Terry Brennan, Notre Dame—Speaking of tough, professor, we beat Texas by terrific line play. We were tough up front, but there were a lot of little breaks and the game was a lot closer than the 21 points indicate.

Ed Price, Texas-Notre Dame had a great team Saturday, and that team played as well as it will play throughout the year. Nobody can lose the ball six times and win. You can't do that against Notre Dame, Oklahoma or that type of club.

Old Professor—Mr. Taylor, will you please stop whispering to Mr. Casanova.

Chuck Taylor, Stanford—I was just telling him I still think Oregon was the better team Saturday, professor. I am very pleased to win a game in which my team performed as poorly as it did.

Len Casanova, Oregon—What do you have to do to win, anyway?

Old Professor—That's a good question. Maybe Mr. Sanders can answer it.

Red Sanders, UCLA—Well, getting three touchdowns in the first quarter helps. We looked pretty good doing that in the first period, but not so tough when Kansas came out in the second and third.

Chuck Mather, Kansas—When I was glad we're through with TCU and UCLA. We just didn't have the horses to deal with them. I was real proud of Ralph Moody's 82-yard punt return.

Old professor—Pardon me, gentlemen, while I take a nip, er, a dose, of cough medicine. Our time is up. I see. Good thing, too. I think this place is like Mr. Evashevski's bench on fire. Why, it's hot.

JOE DOYLE NEW CHAMP

Joe Doyle captured the City Golf Championship Sunday defeating Harold Jewell 12 up 11 in the annual match played on the local courses.

Doyle, the country club champion, got off to an early lead and held it throughout the match. He fired a 69 on the Nichols Park course to take a commanding lead at the halfway point.

Doyle fired birdies on the third, sixth and fourteenth holes. In the afternoon at the club he increased his lead by firing birdies on the second and third holes and then coasted on to the victory.

Jewell, the park champion, encountered difficulty with his short game on his home course but played consistent golf at the club. Wood Phillips and Jim Buckley served as referees.

Doyle is shown above being presented the city championship trophy by Jim Buckley, last year's winner. The trophy is a traveling award and it is donated by the Jacksonville Coca Cola Bottling Company.

Also shown in the picture is Harold Jewell, the runnerup.

Woman Struck By Target Arrow
Necedah, Wis. (AP)—Nineteen years after big game bow hunting became a modern sport in Wisconsin a broadhead arrow officially has drawn its first human blood.

And it wasn't even a real hunting accident, although the law requires it be recorded that way in the first case of personal injury ever caused by the present-day Robin Hoods during hundreds of thousands of man-days hunting.

Mrs. Bernice Buch, an active sportswoman and wife of a Ford Du Lac engineer, was struck in the leg Saturday by an arrow that ricocheted from a target in a hunting camp near the famed Necedah National Wild Life refuge.

It was shot by a member of her own party.

The refuge is opened annually to the bow hunters as part of measures to control its burgeoning deer herd. More than 3,000 archers converged on it during the weekend, supervising Wisconsin personnel estimated, for the opening of the 55-day bow and arrow season on deer.

Quarterback Rejoins Browns
CLEVELAND (AP)—Tommy Thompson, another veteran who could not stand seeing his old team lose, came out of retirement and re-joined the Cleveland Browns Monday, despite a dislocated right knee.

Thompson, defensive captain for the Browns last year, hunted up Coach Paul Brown at Philadelphia Sunday after the Clevelanders took a walloping from the Eagles.

He said he did not like what he saw and wanted to get back to work. Brown immediately took him up on the offer.

Earlier this year halfback Dub Jones gave up retirement after seeing the Browns lose an exhibition.

FAN BREEZES

BY BILL MERRIS
Coach Al Miller will send his Illinois College Blueboys through their first season under the lights tonight at 7:00 on the high school field. This will be the first and only "at night" practice for the Blueboys before their opener Saturday against Eureka.

The Eureka team has improved over last year and the Blueboys will certainly have their hands full. Saturday, the team from up north defeated a CCI entry, North Central, 7-6. This goes to tell you can't always tell about the great game of football.

Two years ago IC was a member of the CCI and played teams such as North Central. However because of the drop in enrollment, the school withdrew from this conference and entered a smaller league. Now the first team they play this year is a club that beat one of the teams in the "tougher league."

Whether the Blueboys have a successful season or not will depend on their line. From where we sit the backfield looks in fine shape and part of the line couldn't be better. However, due to the shortage of experienced linemen, two or three backs have been pressed into duty in the forward wall.

After last Friday's intersquad game Coach Miller admitted there was lots of work to be done. Yesterday he sent the squad through an hour and half scrimmage session with emphasis on blocking and tackling. The team looks good and we believe there is nothing wrong with the Blueboys that won't be solved if a couple of the tackles come through Saturday night will be the test.

Big Ten Will Continue Fight For TV: Wilson
By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
CHICAGO (AP)—The Big Ten officially came out Monday for continuance of its battle to get regional football television.

Conference Commissioner K. L. Tug Wilson told the Chicago American's Quarterback luncheon:

"The Big Ten stand on television should be clear now. We have fought in NCAA circles for regional television. We are going to continue the battle to get it.

"How successful we will be, I don't know. But we'll be in the battle for it right along."

The Big Tens stand on regional television as opposed to the controlled national plan by NCAA is as strong, or even stronger, than ever.

Addressing an audience of about 300 fans at the American's first luncheon of the season, Wilson also reiterated that the Big Ten "has no grievance with pro football" in publicly denouncing a blast last week by Bert Bell, National Football League commissioner. Bell called Big Ten officials "isolationists and selfish men" and charged them with attempting to create a war between college athletics and pro sports.

"We have been termed isolationists," said Wilson. "If that means we are minding our own business, selling our own product, then maybe so. We can get along with the pros—we merely have laid down some ground rules. I will say the pros have a good product, and have done a good job of selling it."

Another speaker, Coach Ray Eliot of Illinois, was questioned about Penn State's 14-12 upset of his Illini Saturday.

"Regardless of a kid named J. C. Caroline, there's got to be 10 others," Eliot said. "We have to do a coordinated 11-man job. Caroline made eight tackles against Penn State, and if a halfback has to make that many, something must be wrong up in front."

Player Leaders' Meet With Lewis
NEW YORK (AP)—Player representatives from 15 of the 16 major league clubs met Monday with J. Norman Lewis, their lawyer, and unanimously approved the revised pension plan, effective in 1957, by which 60 per cent of All-Star cash and World Series radio-TV money goes into the player pension fund.

The players also discussed other changes they want Commissioner Ford Frick to place before the majors at the December meetings.

Among the subjects discussed were a $7,200 minimum salary, insurance for ball players, winter league baseball and a guarantee against outright release between Dec. 1 and the end of spring training.

All clubs were represented except the Chicago White Sox.

Beardstown JV's Beat J.H.S. 20-7
The Jacksonville High School freshmen-sophomore team was defeated by visiting Beardstown 20-7 under the lights last night.

Pumblers played a big part in the JHS loss. This was evident in the very first quarter. Jacksonville recovered a Beardstown fumble on the visitor's 35 yard line. Woodward passed to Hazelrigg and the ball was carried to the 2 yard marker. However, the hosts fumbled twice in a row before Little picked up two yards. Another fumble gave the ball to Beardstown and the Crimson lost their chance to score.

Beardstown scored first in the second quarter on a 75-yard run around right end. The try for extra point was good and the score was 7-0. The visitors came back to score twice in the final period and scored the third time but one TD was called back on a clipping penalty.

Jacksonville's only touchdown came in the final period when Ed Vardie galloped 20 yards on a double reverse. The extra point was good on a pass from Woodward to Wareup.

Howard Bostick, a Jacksonville player, was injured in the third quarter and taken to the hospital where X-rays were taken. He remained in overnight and will be examined further today. It was a back injury but last night's report showed no broken bones or no serious injuries.

Referee Attacked At Soccer Game
MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP)—Leslie Amos, a 42-year-old British referee, was treated in a hospital Monday for injuries suffered Sunday night when he was attacked by an unidentified spectator at a soccer game.

Amos' teeth and knuckles hit his nose at the finish of a hectic game between Penarol and Danubio. Danubio roared when he was ordered 11 additional minutes played because the game had been interrupted several times. During the extra period Penarol scored its winning goal.

Goalie Quits
MONTREAL (AP)—Gerry McNeil, diminutive goaltender of the Montreal Canadiens for the last four National Hockey League seasons, says he is quitting hockey.

"I just figured I had enough and decided to stay home with the family," he said in an interview Sunday night.

The 28-year-old goalie sat out about two months of last season because of an injury. He came back in time to join the team for Stanley Cup playoffs.

East St. Louis Cops 23 Consecutive Win

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Glancing over some highlights of week-end action on downstate Illinois high school gridirons:

Tuscola gave up its record of 16 straight victories in the closing seconds when halfback Dave Schwehm pushed over from the one to produce a 12-6 triumph for Unity of Tolono.

Another halfback, Barry Zonkel of Kenawee, Wethersfield, started his team on the road to victory by rambling 85 yards for a touchdown with the opening kickoff. Wethersfield went on to a 33-13 decision, marking Walnut's first loss in the Blackhawk Conference after 40 straight wins.

Hall of Spring Valley could put the blame on halfback Ray Jauch of Mendota for smashing its 12-game winning string. Jauch chalked up three touchdowns, one on a 71-yard dash, in a 28-0 verdict.

Peoria Manual piled up the first downs but East St. Louis rang up the touchdowns to register its 23rd consecutive triumph. Manual had a 12 to 5 edge in first downs but the powerful East St. Louis club emerged with a 39-14 victory. Quarterback Don Mason streaked 92 yards with a kickoff of one East St. Louis score.

Halfbacks Bill Borzick and Bob Salta were the big guns for Waukegan in a 24-20 conquest of Proviso of Maywood, Suburban League defending champion. Borzick picked up 85 yards in 18 carries and tallied two touchdowns. Salta also got two markers and totaled 87 yards in 14 attempts.

Herrin's 21-6 defeat of Mount Vernon's defending South Seven titleholders was paced by Bill Lawrence, 170-pound halfback, and Charles Hamilton, 180-pound fullback. Herrin ball carriers ripped off 222 yards by rushing.

Guard Rocky Thompson on Peoria Central was a standout in the 40-0 drubbing of Springfield Lanphier. Thompson was credited with 13 tackles and blocked three kicks, one of them going for a touchdown.

Halfback Les Frith of Dwight added two touchdowns against LeMott to boost his two-game total to 42 points.

LaSalle-Peru amassed 341 yards on the ground to 14 for St. Bede of Peru in recording a 63-0 win. LaSalle's top ball carriers were Bill Potocnik, Jimmy Weerts and Dick Sowkowiak. Potocnik averaged 19 yards in seven tries.

Feller Hopes Finally To Win World Series Game
CLEVELAND (AP)—Bob Feller flew out of Cleveland early Monday, hoping to finally pitch a winning game in the World Series.

The aging Cleveland fireballer missed two earlier attempts and this series against the New York Giants might give him his last chance—if he gets it.

Feller, now 35, is the oldest player in an American League in point of service.

He is the only man to pitch three no-hit games in the 20th century. He has struck out more men in one game than any other pitcher. But he has never won a World Series game.

In 1948, the last time the Tribe played in the main event, he lost his first start 1-0 to the Boston Braves. That loss has ranked him ever since. He failed to finish his second start in that series.

Whether he will get another chance depends largely on how the Tribe does in the opening games this time. Manager Al Lopez says that "if we get out in front and get a chance to rest the big three, I'm sure Bob will get a start."

"If we have to keep coming from behind, I'm not so sure."

Art Houtteman, the manager continued, also "deserves a starting shot. He and Feller both have done fine. But a short series isn't like a full season. You can't use everybody."

Feller flew on ahead of the rest of the Indians who leave Cleveland Monday night on a special train. He won 13 and lost 3 during the regular season.

Goalie Quits
MONTREAL (AP)—Gerry McNeil, diminutive goaltender of the Montreal Canadiens for the last four National Hockey League seasons, says he is quitting hockey.

"I just figured I had enough and decided to stay home with the family," he said in an interview Sunday night.

The 28-year-old goalie sat out about two months of last season because of an injury. He came back in time to join the team for Stanley Cup playoffs.

Polish Athlete Forced To Compete
FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—Pressured sports was charged to the Russians who fled to the West after claiming he was forced to compete in the European Track and Field championships in spite of an injured foot.

All military sports in Poland are directed by Russian advisors who dictate training methods and schedules, said Jan Mieczkowski, 22-year-old distance runner.

"We had the same training program as the Soviets," he said. "We were told to prepare ourselves for the 1956 Olympics. That's what the Reds are pointing for." He said all of the best athletes are subsidized in red curtain countries.

Mieczkowski, a blond tank of a flier, said he wanted to emigrate to the U. S.

New Fire Engine, Paid For By Cigarette Tax, Will Arrive In March

A brand new fire engine, a big job capable of pumping 750 gallons of water per minute, will soon take shape in the American LaFrance Foamite Corp. factory at Elmira, N.Y., for delivery to Jacksonville. The city council last night passed a resolution of endorsement to the fire committee's report in which the American LaFrance bid of $16,595 for the pumper was found to be the best, although it was $244.50 higher than the bid submitted by another company.

Alderman Jack Mathews, chairman of the fire committee, explained to the council that several factors were considered when the bids were evaluated. The American LaFrance company guaranteed its machine for five years, while the other manufacturer offered a one year guarantee. Mathews also pointed out that four engines now in use by the Jacksonville fire department are American LaFrance products, and that local firemen are acquainted with their mechanical features and operation.

The resolution accepting the committee recommendation passed after motions by Aldermen Marri-man and Kelly.

Mayor Hoagland called attention to the fact that the new pumper will be purchased with funds derived from the cigarette tax, passed by the council several months ago.

Chief Reynolds said the engine is expected to be delivered next March, as a delivery date of 175 days will be included in the contract. The new pumper will replace another of ancient vintage which has been in service 37 years.

Pipe Line Action
Six resolutions related to the construction of the $2,500,000 pipe line to the Illinois river, which is scheduled to begin within the next few days, were passed under the legal guidance of Special Counsel Orville N. Foreman. The majority of resolutions had to do with right-of-way across private property and roadways.

An agreement to purchase power for operation of the pumping plant at Naples from the Illinois Rural Electric Co. was finally adopted on motion by Alderman Baker, seconded by Alderman Kelly.

A resolution directing the execution of right-of-way agreements with several more individual property owners passed on motions by Aldermen Merriman and Chumley.

An agreement with the Wabash Railroad Co., granting the city the right to cross the railroad with its pipe line at four locations, passed on motions by Aldermen Rowe and Merriman.

The fourth resolution related to the water transmission line directed the issuance of warrants in payment of right-of-way across various farms. Aldermen Chumley and Merriman joined in motions to move this piece of business along.

$4,360 To District Six
The city will pay Road District Six the sum of $4,360 and perform certain work in restoring a roadway along which the pipe line will be laid as set forth in a resolution of approval to an agreement, passed on motions by Aldermen Kelly and May.

Four state highway crossings will be made by the pipe line as it traverses a 23 mile stretch between the river and Jacksonville. Legal procedure necessary to these crossings were taken care of in a resolution adopted on motion of Alderman Merriman, seconded by Alderman May.

Several officials and members of the Jacksonville Automobile Dealers Association appeared before the council and presented a petition, asking that the city consider a reduction of dealers' license fees for the coming year. The petition was presented by Howard (Bud) Walker, president of the association, who was followed by J. T. Chandler and Richard Stratman in urging a revision of dealers' license fees, which they consider too high.

The present cost of dealers' licenses is $5 per car.

In the petition the association members suggested a fee of $5 for an original plate plus $1.50 for all additional plates as a fairer rate for dealers' wheel tax permits.

The petition was referred to the finance committee for study on motion of Alderman Merriman, seconded by Alderman Rowe.

May Reopen Bridge
Alderman Kelly reported that the highway committee has been investigating the possibility of opening the old bridge across Mauvais-terre Creek at the end of East Independence Avenue. He said the committee obtained estimates from the Illinois Bridge Co. that steel for a repair job would cost $365, and that steel for a new beam span would cost $2,442.

Mayor Hoagland recalled that the bridge was closed 10 years ago when it was found to be in a bad state of repair, and when it was decided that traffic did not justify keeping it open. The mayor said before taking any action he believed it should be proved that there is a real need for the bridge, which is located exactly in the middle of the dividing line between Jacksonville and Road District 7.

Alderman Rowe reported that codification work on city ordinances has been completed by the judiciary committee and City Attorney W. R. Bellatti. He said copies of the loose-leaf books may be obtained at a price schedule which was set up by the council several weeks ago.

Alderman Baker, of the police committee recommended that the bid of Morgan County Motors, Inc., to furnish equip and maintain an eight cylinder Ford car for the police department at a rental of $110 per month, be accepted. The recommendation was included in a resolution moved along by motions by Aldermen Baker and Chumley.

A report that Lake Jacksonville is now at extremely low ebb of 15 feet, two inches below the spillway was made by Alderman Kelly.

Mayor Hoagland read a letter from the Caldwell Engineering Co., asking an extension of time on the pavements it is laying on West Morgan and South Fayette streets. The letter said the project was delayed because of delay in action by the state in certain details, and the addition of extras in plans.

The Board of Local Improvement was instructed to authorize an additional 30 days for completion of the pavement.

Two Ways On Morgan
Council discussed the regulation of traffic over West Morgan street when the pavement is opened to traffic, with a consensus that two-way traffic should be permitted because of the widening that has taken place. On motion of Alderman Rowe, seconded by Alderman Baker, the council voted to permit two-way traffic on Morgan between Church and West streets, and to eliminate parking between Dunlap Court and West street.

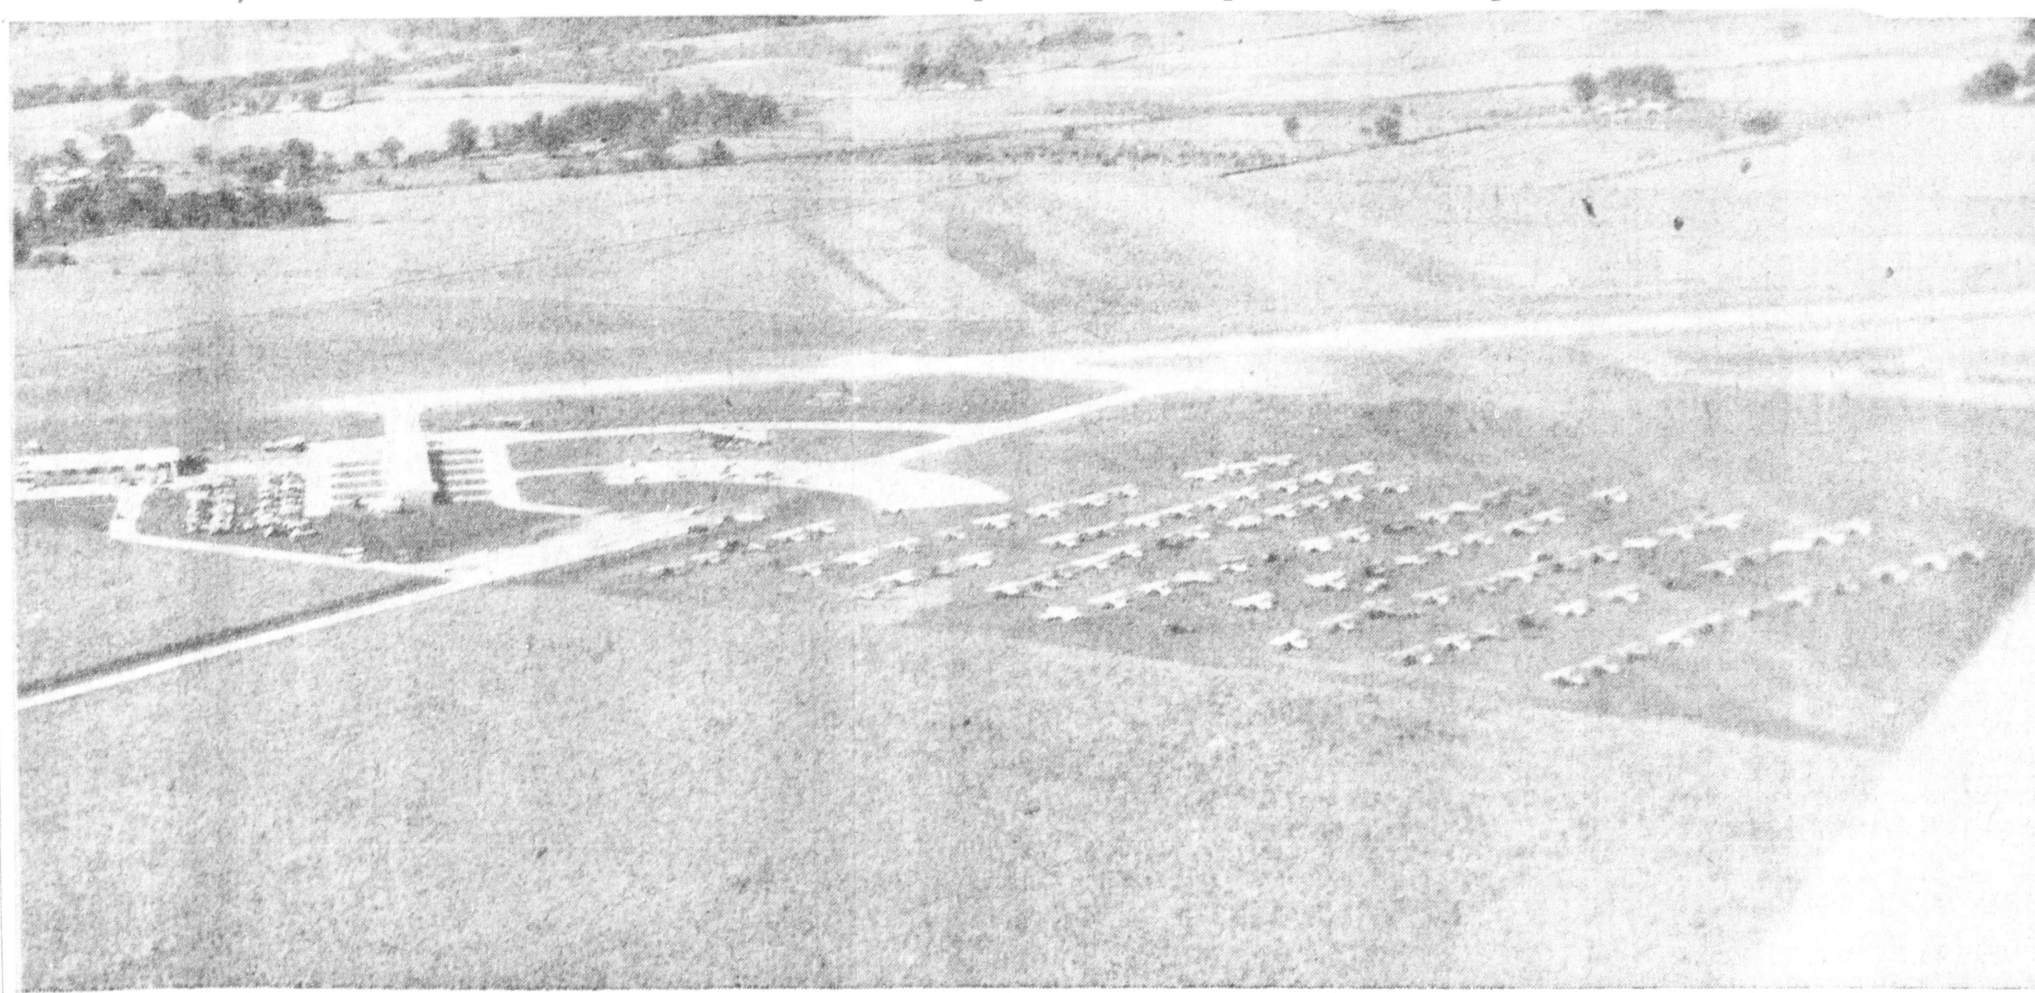

N. J. Butler, managing superintendent of the water, light and sewer departments, submitted a written report on the results of a study he has made of the water distribution system. The superintendent made a number of recommendations to reduce the loss of water.

Benjamin Kirk conferred with the council regarding possibilities for a sewer on East Independence avenue fronting his property. The matter was referred to the superintendent of utilities.

Chief of Police Ike Flynn reported 46 arrests in August; 36 local cases and ten state cases. Police Magistrate Russell J. Alvarez reported fines amounting to $288 in August, $259.20 having been paid to the general fund and $28.80 to the police pension fund.

$99,500 Paid Former Switchman For Crushed Leg

CHICAGO (AP)—A former railroad switchman whose left leg was crushed in an accident received a cash settlement of $99,500 today.

The settlement for John Noble Summers, 48, from the Chicago and Eastern Illinois Railroad was approved by Chief Justice Cornelius Harrington of the Circuit Court.

Summers said his left leg was crushed by a coal car in the railroad's yards in Frankfort on Jan. 8, 1933, because of the railroad's negligence.

Frankfort is in Will County. Summers now is a farmer at Thompsonville in Franklin County.

225 Private Aircraft Bring 600 To Sunday Morning Bacon, Eggs

More than 225 private airplanes brought an estimated 600 passengers to a fly-in breakfast at the Jacksonville Municipal airport Sunday morning to open the city's biggest week in aviation. Airport officials estimated that an additional 10,000 persons drove to the airport during the big "Open House" day.

The open house was sponsored jointly by Byerly Airlines, operators of the airport, the Jacksonville Airport Authority, the Lions Club and the city's Civil Air Patrol to familiarize Jacksonville residents with their airport and present information about the Jacksonville-to-Chicago scheduled air service which Byerly will begin next Friday.

Private planes from all parts of Illinois and adjacent states began arriving at the field before 7 a. m. The pilots and passengers received a free breakfast between 7 and 10 a. m.

Coffee and donuts also free, were served to visitors arriving by automobile.

Members of the Jacksonville Community Flyers' Club assisted the sponsors in conducting the program. The volunteers directed traffic, both planes and cars, operated booths and answered visitors' many questions.

A pair of P-86 Sabrejet fighters from Springfield, flown by Illinois Air National Guard pilots, screamed over the field at 10:30 to open a day-long program of aircraft exhibitions.

Warplanes In Review
A flight of Air National Guard P-61 propeller-driven fighters from Peoria flew in formation over the field at 1:30 and a four-plane team of B-26 attack bombers of the Missouri Air National Guard roared low across the field at 2:30 to wind up the day's display of American air might.

An air force jet fighter, mounted on a large trailer truck, was on exhibition at the airport throughout the day.

The largest plane to land during the day was a twin engined DC-3 famous as commercial aviation's most rugged workhorse, owned by the St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

In addition to the free breakfast, a number of prizes were offered to the visiting pilots.

Virgil Joyce of Camden, Ind., received a $25 savings bond as the pilot flying the longest distance to the open house.

A similar award went to Mrs. Florence Musser of Lincoln, Ill., the first woman pilot to land during the day.

Chicken Dinner Tickets On Sale Tuesday At Gate

There are still tickets available for the fried chicken dinner to be served in the open Tuesday afternoon and evening on the lawn just south of the Jacksonville high school gym benefiting the school bands. The dinner is sponsored by the Jacksonville Band Parents with Willard Cody, general chairman.

Because of the wide scale preparation to serve the dinner in a speedy and efficient manner hundreds may be accommodated in a short time. Serving hours are from 4:30 to 7 p. m. and only unless rain is actually falling will the dinner be served indoors. Should it rain the serving will be at the David Prince Junior High school.

The generous menu of one-quarter of a fried chicken with bread and butter sandwich, baked beans, potato salad and cole slaw may be supplemented with hot or cold beverages and dessert of homemade cake and/or ice cream at a special concession booth. The tickets are selling for only one dollar.

There will be two lines for the cafeteria style serving with dining at individual tables, family style. Tables are to be cleared and kept neat by members of the senior high school band under adult supervision. The cooking will be done under strict sanitary conditions with only fried chicken prepared in the open. Members of the Band Parents Association are working hard to establish a precedent, with the fried chicken dinner served in the open, and every effort will be made to give more than satisfactory service and good food.

A brisk ticket sale has been conducted with prizes to be awarded to the boy or girl selling the most tickets donated by the Jacksonville Novelty Company.

Donald Hanback, Jo Ann Campbell Wed In Winchester

WINCHESTER—At a lovely fall wedding at the First Baptist Church in Winchester Sunday at 2 p. m. Miss Jo Ann Campbell became the bride of Donald Hanback. A large group of relatives and friends witnessed the double ring ceremony performed by Rev. William Sealock before the altar decorated with baskets of white gladioli, chrysanthemums, palms and lighted candelabra.

The bride is the daughter of Leo Campbell and the groom's mother is Mrs. Harley Hanback of Alsey.

Preceding the ceremony Mrs. Nora Bean played selections at the organ and she accompanied Mrs. William Hanback who sang "Thine Alone." Through the Years" and "The Lords Prayer" following the exchange of vows.

Miss Rita Gail Robinson was maid of honor for the bride. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Leonard Hoots, sister of the bride, Miss Nancy Hendershott, Miss Beverly Vogler, Deatur, and Miss Patricia Reese, Deatur.

Leonard Hoots served as best man. Ushers were William Hanback, Ed Haggard, Bob Hannon, Jacksonville, and Wayne King, Alsey.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, chose a bridal gown of Chantilly lace and nylon net. The sleeveless lace bodice was covered with a long sleeve bolero jacket, with tiny buttons down the front. The waist length full skirt was fashioned with a panel insert of lace and tiny pleats of nylon tulle to the hemline. Her cap of net and lace over white satin held a fingertip veil. Her cascade bouquet was of white carnations, and eponthis, centered with a white orchid.

The attendants' gowns were similar in design. Miss Robinson's being in a melon shade, the bridesmaid's in aqua. The low cut sleeveless lace bodice was ornamented with pearls, and the ballerina length full skirts were of nylon net. Their open-crown small velvet hats were of matching color. They wore short white gloves and carried cascade bouquets of pom poms, white for Miss Robinson and bronze for the bridesmaids.

Mrs. Leo Campbell chose a suit dress of Pervance silk faille a pink hat and black accessories. Her corsage was of pink carnations.

Mrs. Hanback, mother of the groom, wore a dress of wedgewood blue crepe with black accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

A reception for the wedding guests was held at the Hotel Winchester following the ceremony. The bridal table was centered with white carnations in a crystal container and a three-tiered wedding cake. Those assisting at the reception were Mrs. James Gillespie of Jacksonville, Mrs. Donald Clark of Pittsfield, Mrs. Eddie Evans, and Mrs. Bob Guene.

Mr. and Mrs. Hanback left on a wedding trip to the Northern States and Canada. Mrs. Hanback wore a suit of steel gray cord faille with black accessories and a white orchid. Following their return from the honeymoon they will live in the Campbell apartments, Mr. Hanback is associated with the Campbell Bros.

Out-of-town relatives who attended the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hazelrigg, uncle and aunt of the bride, and daughter Connie of Jacksonville, Mr. and Mrs. Norman White, uncle and aunt of the bride, Alton, Mrs. Marie Tolson, mother of Mrs. Campbell, Barry, Mrs. Carl Schofield, sister of Mrs. Campbell, and Mr. Schofield of St. Louis, Mr. and Mrs. Truman Daniels, New Salem. Maternal grandfather of the bride, C. M. Hazelrigg and Mrs. Hazelrigg also attended.
